TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

We are glad to say that the association grows more instructive, interesting and energizing at each meeting of its busy, wide-awake members. Although the attendance is not by any means what it should be, yet we do not feel at all discouraged and trust that in the near future every teacher and patron of the county will become interested in the association and give it their hearty support. The common schools of the county need a reconstruction so as to put them on a practical footing with other institutions of our age. They need to be graded and have a systematic course of study adopted, with proper authority given to the superintendent to enforce the plans. By the enforcement of these alone a great interest would be awakened on the part of the patrons; schools would be compared and contrasted; competition among the schools would be aroused; definiteness of work would be secured; all the children in the county would be pursuing the same studies and the same course of studies; ambition to complete the course would be aroused; graduation exercises would be established; emulation among the schools as to percentage of attendance would be aroused; a pride in each school with regard to its standing as to its fullness and regularity of attendance would be excited and so every neighborhood would discover a new interest in its school because it was in relation and comparison with all the other schools. Another great need is more spacious and better furnished houses; built in the most convenient, healthy and attractive places in the districts. If you would glance into some of the school-houses at the present time, you would see nothing adorning the walls which would give a cheery atmosphere to the school; no apparatus with which the teacher can make his work more effective; long and rickety benches filled with a dozen or more children, seated so closely together that their position is anything else but comfortable, and many other inconveniences, too numerous to mention.

We have given here some of the defects of our common schools, but the next thing of importance is, how can they be remedied? The only sure way is to persistently urge upon the legislature to give such legislation as is necessary to meet these requirements. No doubt but that the majority of the legislators do not know the practical needs of the common schools, therefore it is very important that they should be informed as to these necessities and entreated to act upon them speedily.

But there is much that can be done independent of the legislature. The patrons can send their children more regularly; the teachers unite more closely; the schools can be graded to some extent, and course of study adopted, all of which would put the common schools in a much better condition than they now are. And we would insist upon a movement of this kind being made in the county. Although there would not be much accomplished the first year, yet it would be a move in the right direction, and by continual agitation and earnest efforts, glorious victories would be achieved. G. U. FAY, Editor.

It is to be a black winter in the dress sense. Women as well as men are taking to black attire. The queerest eccentricity of sweet woman's whim for black, however, is not the bridal stocking, with its beautiful design and finish, but the fashionable female attire. The tights are stockings that extend to the hips, just as they are worn on the comic opera stage.—New York Sun.

One of the largest cigarette manufacturers in New York, testified on the witness stand last week, that he annually bought about 200 tons of cigar stumps and odds and ends of tobacco picked up in the gutters and on the streets of the cities all over the Union, and that this kind of tobacco goes into the most popular brands of cigarettes.—Ex.

Every year a layer of the entire sea, 14 feet thick, is taken up into the clouds. The winds bear their burden into the land and the water comes down in rain upon the fields, to flow back through rivers.

—“Big Liz” Carter, a Cincinnati negro, was found guilty of murder in the first degree. She poisoned her paramour, with whom she had lived a number of years.

HUSTONVILLE.

—Rev. John Riffe, pastor of the Baptist church, has removed to Perryville, where he will preach twice monthly. He will continue to devote one Sunday of each month to the Hustonville congregation and one to the Bradfordsville church.

—Rev. W. L. Williams preached a most able and interesting sermon on sanctification to a crowded house at Moreland Sunday morning, 9th inst. But a few weeks ago there was a “Holiness Meeting” of several days’ duration held at the Moreland church, which excited great interest and as the many professions of sanctification, or sinlessness, were fresh in the memory of the people, it was anticipated by many that Bro. W. would strike some stinging blows, but the sensationalists and fault-finders were disappointed. The discourse was in Mr. Williams’ happiest vein, logical throughout and utterly devoid of that ferocity we expect when prepared for an onslaught against one of our pet dogmas. Not even a suspicion of propaganda can attach to the discourse. It will be intensely gratifying to the great number of Mr. Williams’ friends, to know that instead of renouncing the harness, as he felt four years ago would be a physical necessity, he has renewed his lease and is again a “host within himself.”

—Isn’t the prominent republicans’ explanation of the late ground-swell amusing? It is not amusing, either, to the farmers to be so plainly styled a set of consummate asses. No reference to any benefits accruing to farmers from the McKinley bill, which generated the cyclone, but the increased industries which will spring up in consequence will demonstrate the benefits of that bill a year hence, and the agricultural asses will contentedly resume paying extra tribute to the favored manufacturers who furnish republican campaign managers boodle for buying elections, are the sum and substance of John Sherman’s views of their defeat. A creature of the republican party, whose egotism insures his turning the small end of the telescope on nearly all of creation—a malignant individual whose slanderous pen secured him an introduction to the toe of Joe Blackburn’s boot, compliments his radical affiliates highly in his explanation of their apostasy, meaning to ridicule them. He accredits the average republican with being reasoned into voting by his wise description of the inequities of the increased tariffs instead of being bought or driven.

WAYNESBURG.

—L. G. Gooch has bought G. A. Padgett’s farm at $10 per acre.

—Eld. R. C. Medaris, editor of the Mountain Baptist, of Williamsburg, is to assist the pastor, Eld. A. J. Pike, in a meeting here, beginning the 21st. Bro. Medaris is said to be a strong man and a good meeting is expected. Let everybody attend.

—T. D. Gooch has gone to Lexington to visit his daughter, Mrs. H. S. Wilson. Mrs. Ermine Padgett and Mrs. E. S. Gooch are visiting relatives at Moreland and McKinney. R. M. Gooch, of Moreland, and E. S. Gooch, of Waynesburg, will move their families to Somerset and go into business together. L. G. Gooch gets the post-office and T. J. Cress has been appointed station agent.

—M. Howard, Jr., has been appointed as one of the county processioners and the appointment gives entire satisfaction. We need young, energetic men for such positions. Ellis & Jackson, of Michigan, who have bought a great deal of timber here and put in a new mill, are now about ready to begin sawing. They have a large force of men at work and pay them off in cash every Saturday night. We are glad to welcome such men to Waynesburg. R. D. Padgett & Co. are talking of building a new store-house adjoining their residence.

F. W. Handman will, on Dec. 15 next, move his beer bottling works to Harrodsburg. The people of that place offered Mr. Handman a lot of ground on which to locate his plant, but it was not suitable and he has leased ground there with the privilege of buying at a fixed price. —The will of M. P. Sallee leaves all of his estate to his wife during her life. J. M. Sallee and W. H. Sallee are named as executors. —Mrs. M. J. Lyon fell down the steps of the 2d Presbyterian church and suffered a fracture of the knee cap. —The Advocate is trying to have a new Opera House built and agrees to take $1,000 of the stock of $15,000 to $20,000 necessary to build it.

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

—Thanksgiving services will be held at the Baptist church.

—Any one wishing to buy fat, say about 250 pounds, will do well to call on Perry Wesley.

—There will be a wedding here in about a month. We would give names, but we are under oath not to.

—W. M. Holland has purchased a fine pair of horses and a stage and will open up a line from here to McKinney shortly.

—L. D. Williams, our clever and hustling druggist, will leave in a few days for Point Burnside to handle bottles there.

—The spelling contest was largely attended at the college. It continued two hours, when Miss Willie Gann’s side was declared winner.

—We have not learned yet what the committee has done in regard to building a graded school here, under the auspices of a Baptist denomination, but hope they will push it through, for the people of the community seem interested in the matter.

—W. J. Gann was in Pulaski this week. John Welcher went to Lexington Saturday. L. D. Williams went to Somerset Tuesday. Bud Ray, of Taylor county, was here Monday. Drummers were as thick as flies in town this week. Willie Bryant has recovered from a few days’ sickness. Sewing machine and book agents have kept the town lively for the last week.

—On Tuesday evening two of our best boatmen (or claim to be) undertook to ride on waves where no other man dared to venture. They rowed to the spot and were bragging of their venture, when all of a sudden without any warning to them the boat turned over and they were left to swim, kick or die. When they reached dry land they were the sickest party that ever tried to take a ride. Ask Isaiah Wesley about the rest.

—George, a son of B. K. Swope, died here last Friday of brain fever, after an illness of only a few days. He was the youngest son of Mr. Swope and was a bright and industrious boy. He was in his teens and possessed a good character and had a pleasant word for all who knew him. His death cast a gloom over his friends and associates. His remains were taken to Garrard county and laid to rest. We deeply sympathize with his stricken parents.

—The people of our town are raising a terrible racket about the way our mail line is carried on and will try to have it changed if they can. The mail comes, as some of our nearest towns know, from Kingsville here by the way of Yosemite, and from the latter place by back line, which has to cross Green river, which is past fording half the time and our mail is generally a week old from laying over at Yosemite. The line could be run from McKinney, as it once did, and we would have our daily mails. We hope our town people will have it changed, so we can have a mail once a year, anyway.

HUBBLE.

—Mr. Clark Farris, who has bought the line from Lancaster to Danville, is a splendid hack man and everybody is pleased with him.—John Bright is improving rapidly now. James Herring is convalescent.—J. J. Walker bought a sorrel horse from B. F. Engleman for $125.—Foster Engleman, of color, aged 90, died Tuesday. He was a good old man.—Mrs. Blackerby sold four steers, averaging 1,200, to Monte Fox at 3 cents. Protracted meeting here is moving along nicely with good attendance since it cleared off.—Geese are in demand here now and turkeys have advanced to 6 cents. James Engleman is improving his farm by building a barn and meat house.—Measles are raging in this vicinity and whooping cough is going the rounds too.—F. Rigney is on the puny list again.

A MODERN NEWSPAPER.—For excellence, high character, reliability, variety, enterprise and cheapness the Cincinnati Weekly Gazette (the weekly addition of the Commercial Gazette) can not be surpassed by any other newspaper in America. It is all that the heading of this notice would indicate—a modern newspaper. With all its attractions it can be had at $1 a year.

—“Yours Merryly, John Rogers” and his wife, pretty Minnie Palmer, the actress, are out. She accuses John of trying to kill her and has fled from him.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Mrs. E. M. Green, whose death you reported, was taken to Columbia, S. C. for interment.

—Measles in a severe form are raging in the town and county, scarcely a family having escaped.

—Main street, between Second and Fourth is having a layer of macadamized rock put on, which will help us out of the mud somewhat this winter.

—This bit of church history has recently come to light. The house in which the first Methodist class meeting was held is still standing and is situated about 7 miles west of this place. The time of the meeting was in the year 1783.

—A protracted meeting at the Baptist church, to begin next Sunday, will be conducted by the pastor, J. W. Lynch, assisted by Rev. Mr. White, of Durham, C. The church is having prayer services every night this week, preparatory to the meeting.

—Some people have cheek enough to ask anything. Did you ever? How is this for downright gall? A man asked a merchant for a pocket-book on credit; it’s a fact. Can you tell me what use he would have for the book if he had no money to put in it?

—It seems that the grasshopper shower, which I reported in my last, was only confined to a small portion of town, just in the locality of Lexington and Pine str. etc. Some ladies living in that locality, whose veracity could not be doubted, are responsible for the item.

—J. W. Sturgeon, of Barren county, bought this week of I. M. Quisenberry his farm in the West End, consisting of 131 acres for $9,000. Mr. Q. has bought since of W. W. Wallace his farm on the Shakerstown pike for $5,000. Dave W. Dunn bought, Monday, of Dr. Fayette Dunlap, his property on Broadway and Fourth and will move in the first of next week. Dr. D. bought it a short time ago and he and his sister, Miss Mary, had gone to housekeeping. Henry Dunn and family will move Monday to the house on Main street recently vacated by Archer Robinson.

—Miss Kate Kinnaird, of Lancaster, is visiting Miss Sadie Cecil. J. R. Marrs and daughter, Miss Hattie, spent the day here Monday. The following young gentlemen, members of the McCreary Guards, were here Monday night to take part in a play at the Opera House, in which the Lyon Comedy Company have engaged for the week: Letcher Owsley, Ed Hughes, Sam Jennings, Ed Finley, Wm. Walden, Harry Cartright, J. M. Rothwell and Charles Blanks. Carroll Reid and Gill Boyle have gone to Longview, Ala., on a hunting expedition. Frank Gilcher and wife and Mrs. Marks visited P. A. Marks in Harrodsburg.

This is not an “off year” in a national sense, for it is the year of a Congressional election, and the general interest was not less than in a presidential year, tho’ there was not so much picturesque incident. It is the year of reckoning with republican abuse of power—an abuse shown most flagrantly in the contemptuous treatment of the minority in the House, in the monstrous excesses of the tariff and in the flagrant defiance of the official honor and honesty in the republican campaign in Pennsylvania. The election has demonstrated anew the political health and vigor of the country. It has shown that there is a patriotic spirit superior to party spirit, a conservative independence strong enough to resist the dragooning of party and to stand fast for wise and honest conviction.—Harper’s Weekly.

The law in regard to posting lands is as follows: The owner shall erect and maintain sign boards, at least one foot square, in at least two conspicuous places on each side of the premises or lands intended to be posted; such sign board to have thereon the word “Posted,” together with the name of the owner or occupant of said land. Any person who shall tear down or destroy them shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5 or more than $25. Any person who shall knowingly hunt on posted premises is subject to a fine of not less than $5 nor exceeding $25.

—Of the 101 years Congress has been held Kentucky has furnished the speaker for 26 of them. Henry Clay held the position 14 years, Mr. Boyd four years, Mr. White two years and John G. Carlisle six years.

W. P. WALTON.

Those who imagined that Hon. Wilbur F. Browder had been either wounded or slain by the discharge of Gov. Knott's artillery will find by perusing his four column reply in Tuesday's Courier-Journal that they were laboring under a mistake. He comes smiling up to the scratch and with the governor's favorite weapon of irony and sarcasm, dresses him down about as genteely as it could be done. The controversy grew out of Gov. Knott's speech favoring the giving of the legislature the right to revoke charters and is becoming decidedly interesting. Gov. Knott's surjoiner will be looked for with interest. As it now stands Mr. Browder has the best of the argument. He has shown himself a foeman worthy of the steel of the great word fencer and his letters have done much to show the absurdity of the prejudice against corporations, that designing people have sought to instill in the public mind.

The negro Langston, who was given Venable's seat in Congress and $10,000 by the thieving party in power, has served notice that he will contest Mr. Epps' seat in the next body, although there is a majority against him of nearly 4,000. Of course he does not expect to get it, but he does count on the $2,000 usually allowed to contestants. It is to be hoped that the next House will adopt a different rule and disappoint the human mule on the very object he is banking on.

In this democratic year of our Lord it is not safe to concede anything to the republicans. They have been claiming California's delegation solid, but the official returns show that two democrats are elected to Congress from that State—from the 1st and 2d districts. The official count also gives the democracy another member from Michigan and if this thing keeps up the republicans will not have enough representatives in Congress to demand the yeas and nays.

The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette states that John G. Carlisle's "pressing business engagements" which kept him from attending the Thurman banquet was a card party in Newport, and that the real reason that he failed to attend was that he did not want to sit next to Ex-President Cleveland around the board. The absurdity of the story furnishes its own denial and renders it unnecessary for the senator to notice it.

The official returns from the bloody 11th are at last in and they show that John Henry Wilson pulled through with 3,708 plurality, although Harrison carried it by 9,406. The total vote was, Wilson, 9,612; Howard, 5,904 and Chestnut, whom Brer. Rucker called himself to order and nominated for the prohibitionists, 311, 90 of which he got in Pulaski. Wilson carried all the counties but Bell.

It is the height of absurdity to talk of holding the convention to nominate candidates for State offices in January. The con. con. will not have decided by that time what offices are elective and when the election shall be held. Next June is time enough for the convention, that is if the Frankfort tea party will have adjourned by that time.

The Glasgow Times says that Will Hull is back on the Courier-Journal, which he left temporarily to be agent for Julia Marlowe. The company has disbanded, owing to the serious illness of the star. All the newspaper men will be as glad to see him in the harness again as they were surprised at his freak of casting it off.

CORPORAL TANNER should thank his stars that Harrison kicked him out of the pension office. His position as commissioner paid about $5,000 a year. Immediately on being ordered down and out he hung out his shingle as pension claim agent and it is stated that he has already made $197,000.

REED's democratic opponent for Congress has decided not to contest his seat, but will lay before Congress the peculiar election methods by which the bulldozer was returned to Congress. Even if there is no contestant, it appears that Reed ought to be turned out on general principles.

It cost the government $1,010,270 to print its money this year. It could be done for less than half that amount on cylinder presses, but the printers and pressmen demand that it shall be done entirely on hand presses, and those in authority are afraid to ignore it.

It seems a settled fact that Don Dickerson will be elected U. S. Senator from Michigan. The legislature will re-district the State and secure the other Senator in 1895. The delegation in Congress will stand ten democrats to one republican.

In spite of the opposition of the alliance, Gov. Gordon was elected U. S. Senator from Georgia on the first ballot. This puts another rebel brigadier in the saddle. He will take the place of Senator Brown, who declined re-election.

As employee of the Senate document room, E. P. Cunningham, who is a relative of the late John A. Logan, went into the White House and obtaining entrance to President Harrison's room, began to vilify and abuse him for being the cause of the republican defeat. He finally applied to him the vilest epithet known to the language of rowdies, when he was seized and hurried to jail. The president made no effort to defend himself by word or act, but grew as pale as a sheet. Cunningham is the same fellow who, in 1885, during Cleveland's reign, fired off a big cannon in front of the White House to celebrate the re-election to the United States Senate of John A. Logan. He was arrested then and several republican papers tried to make a martyr of him, a Cincinnati sheet going so far as to take up a public subscription for him. What do they think of him now?

The more we read the demagogic proceedings of the con. con. the more we become reconciled to the biennial meetings of the legislature. What was supposed to be an aggregation of great men is proving a body of miserable time-servers and record-makers, with a precious few honorable individual exceptions.

—A Mrs. Outhwaite, living near Alton, Mo., is said to have given birth to six living children within a period of 24 hours, and it is further reported that the mother and the litter are all doing well.

—T. V. Powderly was re-elected Grand Master Workman of the Knights of Labor and voluntarily reduced his salary of $5,000 to $3,500 per annum. Even this, though, seems a good deal more than he is worth.

—Ed Jones, who called T. M. Cardwell out of the court room at Harrodsburg and after cursing and abusing him tried to stick a knife in his vitals, continued to curse him after being brought into court and Judge Russell sent him to jail for a year.

—It is said that the death of Lt. Jameson, who bought a little girl and gave her to the African cannibals to see them eat her, and sat making sketches of the hideous spectacle, was directly due to the grief and anxiety caused by a full realization of his position.

—J. B. McPherson, stock agent for the Kentucky Central, while attempting to unload stock, was run over by a Chesapeake and Ohio engine and freight car, at Covington, and had both legs cut off at the knees, besides being otherwise injured. He died the same night.

—Gov. F. E. Warren was elected to the United States Senate as a colleague to J. M. Carey, who was elected from Wyoming last Saturday. A son of Senator Beck got the democratic vote.

—After a long and tedious debate the convention refused to take from the governor the power to pardon before conviction. In all cases of pardon he shall file with each application a statement of the reason for his decision thereon, which shall always be open to public inspection.

The Louisville Store.

Our prices speak plainer than words. That the people appreciate our many attractions is plainly demonstrated by the crowds that have been daily visiting our store where our

Of Dry Goods, Dress Goods, Cloaks, Shawls, Blankets, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, Trunks and Carpets will be found embracing the latest Novelties of Style and Materials at prices perfectly astonishing.

Immense shipments of new goods received in the past few days will be ready for your inspection. Our unprecedented success this season has allowed us to sell goods at

LESS PROFIT THAN EVER BEFORE.

The greater our sales the less our margin of profits. Our maxim, which has governed us from our infancy in business, to calculate how cheaply we can sell on article is still adhered to and has won for us thousands of friends. This is quite a contrast from the old foggy idea, how much can we make on an article?

Look at the values in our Dress Goods Department for this week only: 54-inches wide Ladies' Cloth at 60c, worth 90c a yard; 45 inches wide Plaid Novelty Serges at 55c, worth 75c a yard, and all other goods will be sold at reduced prices. Remember and get as many chances as possible on the handsome Plush Parlor Set which will be given away Christmas week at

—If it takes the convention 67 days to adopt a preamble and bill of rights, how long will it take it to get through and adjourn? The person guessing nearest to the day will be presented with a purse of $1,000.

—The gubernatorial succession has been arranged so that the president pro tempore of the Senate, who is to be elected by that body, shall act as governor when neither the governor nor lieutenant governor are qualified.

—Delegate Miller is developing into the funny man of the body. A record maker wanted to stop the practice of allowing members their per diem while they were off attending to their own business, when Mr. Miller laid him out with a remark that brought down the House. He is not the first man by several that Mr. Miller has given the grins and we hope he will continue to show the demagogues up in their true light.

—The con. con. has spent the last few days discussing the question of pardons, by the governor, with a view to prohibiting the practice of extending clemency before conviction. During the debate, Mr. Burnam, of Madison, made the statement that Commonwealth's attorneys pardoned more wealthy men before conviction than did the governor. If any one doubts the truth of Mr. B's statement he has only to examine the court records and see how many cases are "fired away" with no reason given therefor. The convention might put a limit on the power of that official, while circumscribing those of the governor.

SHAVING WITH VASELINE.—A friend of mine a few months ago told me how to shave easily and painlessly, and I have never shaved in a barber's shop since. The plan is to use oil or grease instead of soap to prepare the chin and soften the beard. Vaseline is the most convenient and it should be rubbed in quite freely. Then with a keen razor shaving can be done quickly and without a suspicion of pain. At first I couldn't reconcile myself to doing without the orthodox lather and used soap after the vaseline had been applied. But the soap really is unnecessary, and shaving with oil or vaseline is cleaner as well as pleasanter, and what is more to the point, there is no irritation whatever to the skin.—Globe Democrat.

There are 4,200 building and loan associations in the United States supported by the middle and poorer classes of society. These organizations control property valued at $350,000,000, into which, during 1890, it is estimated there will be paid $75,000,000. The first building association was organized at Philadelphia in 1821. In 19 years from that time 50 were established in that city, and at this time in Pennsylvania over $18,000,000 annually are saved by the workmen through this method.

An inch of rain on a square yard of surface represents a fall of 46 74-100 lbs. or 4 67-100 gallons. On an acre it corresponds to 22,622 gallons, or 100 and a fraction tons. One hundred tons per inch per acre is a ready way of remembering this. The quantity of rain falling at any one time or place is measured by means of a "rain-gauge" or "pluviometer," a description of which may be found in any work on natural philosophy.—C.-J.

THIEVES entered the brick meat house of S. W. Givens, Saturday night, and helped themselves to a half-dozen or so nice hams. The entrance was effected by removing the brick from the wall, which necessitated a good deal of work. Mr. Givens' hen-house was visited the same night and his roosts relieved of a large number of fleshy fowls that were no doubt being fattened for thanksgiving.

WHILE Misses Mary Bruce and Emma Owsley were out horseback riding Wednesday afternoon, the latter's horse became frightened when near Mr. John Bright's and took out at a break-neck speed. Miss Emma was unable to hold him, but managed to keep her seat till the toll-gate was reached. Here the excited horse broke through the gate and threw the rider to the ground with great force. It seemed a miracle that she was not killed, but fortunately, except a number of bruises and a few scratches, she was unhurt. The little lady was scared nearly out of her wits, though, and it will likely be some time before she attempts another ride.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—John Russell Young, Ex-Minister to China and at present on the editorial force of the Herald, and Mrs. Mary Davids were married in New York Wednesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kooker, of La-haska, Pa., who celebrated their golden wedding a few days ago, have not had a death in their family in all that time. They have six children, 14 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

—Mrs. Frances Bracken, of Simpson county, who although but 17 married a man of 70, a few months ago, has already tired of her bargain and brought suit for divorce. She ought to be made to live with him, whether she finds it pleasant or not.

—Another Kentucky girl has flown the track after all the preparations had been made to marry and eloped with the man of her choice. Miss Rose Williams a belle at Ashland ran off and married a counter hopper, on the day she was to wed a rich cattle rancher from the West.

—The date of the marriage of Col. John B. Fish, of Pineville, to Miss Arthur, of Williamsburg, has been fixed for the 27th, thanksgiving day, we suppose because John wants to emphasize his thankfulness for winning so beautiful and so lovely a woman. As she is a Catholic the ceremony will be solemnized by Father Jerome Frye of that church.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

Day, of Lexington, is doing the preaching and the meeting will last over Sunday at least. There have been two additions to date.

—In the last issue of the Western Recorder will be found some resolutions of the Tennessee State Baptist Convention on the temperance question which we commend to the careful perusal of the rantankerous people, who want to do by legislation what the church can only successfully accomplish. The resolutions oppose the adoption of anything that will in any way be reasonably interpreted into converting the Baptist denomination into a political machine, looking to low or high license, to local, State or National prohibition, and its ministers are requested not to identify themselves with outside organizations to their injury, but devote their time to preaching the morality of the gospel, confident the solution of this particular feature of intemperance, as well as all intemperance, is in the constant, persistent and never ceasing business of preaching repentance toward God and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

Forty of them averaged 1,750 pounds, and one weighed 2,150, while the lot averaged 1,660, and brought $6,601.12 1/2. It was a splendid lot and Mr. Owsley thinks he ought to have gotten at least $400 more for it.

Wyatt Hughes sold to Mock & Bonta one hundred barrels of corn at $2.25 in the field. John Tewmeyer & Son bought a car-load of sugar mules at Bowling Green this week at $135. Capt. R. D. Logan bought last week in Washington county 64 feeders averaging 1,370 pounds, at 3.30. The cattle market was considerably off Monday from last court prices ranging from 2 to 3 cts, and the rain interfered with street sales. One lot of Kansas mule colts sold at $40 per head. Mative mules and horses sold readily at $75 to $150.—Advocate.

The "Carette," a diminutive street car without a track, has been in use in Chicago for several weeks. The "Carette" is light and easy in motion and no jolting or discomfort was felt in riding in it along the part cobble-stone paving of Chestnut street. It avoids delays or blockades, and stops at the curb to receive and discharge passengers. It seats 20 persons and is drawn by two horses and has a conductor and driver.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Clark Farris has bought out the stage and express line between here and Danville.

—Mr. James Dudderar and Miss Bettie Lear, daughter of Elijah Lear, were married at the home of the bride, in this county, Tuesday afternoon. They left immediately for the groom's home, in Lincoln county, where a reception was held.

—Capt. W. J. Kinnaird, of Middlesboro, is here. Mrs. Pattie Hays and Miss Bessie Richards were here the first of the week. Miss Lizzie Marksburg, of Lower Garrard, was visiting in town Wednesday. John Newland, Stanford's efficient marshal, was here Wednesday. "Brother" won't run.

—Mr. J. C. Hemmings in the C. J. of the 15th, considers Hon. W. C. P. Breckinridge as a greater orator than Demosthenes, Isocrates, Cicero, Burke, Pitt, Fox, Clay, Webster, Calhoun and Everett, and as evidence of the correctness of his opinion quotes one sentence in the address of the orator at the Thurman Banquet containing 231 words.

—Misses Altie Marksburg and Mamie Currey are visiting the Misses Moore, in Lower Garrard. Matt Ellis, of Cincinnati, was here Tuesday. Jim Currey left Wednesday on his regular trip for a boot and shoe house in Cincinnati. Miss McDonald, of Flemingsburg, is visiting at Rev. J. C. Frank's. Judge M. H. Owsley went to Frankfort Wednesday to argue a case in the Court of Appeals. J. H. Brown is very much improved. He was in town Wednesday.

—James Saunders, who resides near Paint Lick, in Garrard county, came to Lancaster last night for a physician, his wife being ill. Dr. Kinnaird couldn't get his horse out of the stable, and at Saunders' request started on Saunders' horse. Saunders followed on foot, but didn't overtake the doctor. He was found dead this morning, about a mile from town, his head being on the roots of a tree, as though he was taken sick and laid down to rest. The general opinion is that he died of heart disease.

—Col. Bennett H. Young is said to be a versatile and many-sided man. In inviting the constitutional convention to partake of his hospitality at the famous High Bridge at Tyrone, he reviewed the history of bridge building from the days of Babylon to the present time. The latter part of his speech alone occupies a full column of fine type and enters into detail as to all the styles of bridges known to the world. He said that "in the midst of beautiful Babylon nearly three-quarters of a century before the Christian era, the Assyrian engineers spanned the Euphrates and diverted it that stream by artificial ways from its natural channel in order to sink their coffer-dams in its beds and reach foundations for their stone piers to support their structure across its floods. On our own continent the Peruvians hundreds of years ago commenced bridge erection by stretching ropes across chasms and pulling passengers and burdens in baskets." Coming along down the ages that followed, bridge building culminated in the erection of "Young's High Bridge," at Tyrone, in Kentucky, which is the marvel of the age. It is to be hoped that after reflecting seriously upon the work of the Babylonians and Peruvians, and partaking of Col. Young's hospitality, they were duly prepared to resume work upon the constitution.

—The Duke and Duchess of Marlborough have been visiting Lexington, Louisville and Middlesboro, the Duke having interests at the latter place. The Duchess is the daughter of Commodore Cicero Price, of the U. S. navy, who died in New York several years ago. Commodore Price was born and raised near Lancaster, in Garrard county, Ky.; was a graduate of the Naval Academy and spent his life in the service of his country. He died at an advanced age, honored and respected by all who knew him. He was the son of William Price, whose family consisted of Cicero, Jennings, Absalom, Napoleon, Johnson and Emily. The latter married Benjamin F. Graham, a lawyer, who was appointed quarter master by President Polk and was killed at Cerro, near Monterey, in Mexico, by Urrea's cavalry, about the time of the battle of Buena Vista. He was assisting in defending the train and fell while exposing himself to the fire of the enemy. Dr. Johnson Price, one of the brothers of Commodore Price, commanded Co. A from Garrard county in Col. Humphrey Marshall's regiment of Kentucky cavalry and was conspicuous for his gallantry at the battle of Buena Vista. Upon his return to Kentucky he was elected a delegate to the convention that framed the present constitution, but after serving for some time, left for California without signing the instrument upon its adoption. He filled positions of honor in the West and died some years since in California. Absalom removed to Lexington, Ky., acquired a fortune and has been dead several years. Napoleon resided at the old homestead in Garrard county until his death some three years since. Dr. Jennings Price is living comfortably at his home in Lancaster at the advanced age of 82 and enjoys the confidence and respect of the entire community. He was a successful practitioner of medicine and was for several years president of the Garrard County Deposit Bank. It will be seen that the Duke and Duchess have a large train of distinguished connection in Central Kentucky, and will no doubt be glad to meet them during their sojourn.

—James I. Hamilton has tendered his resignation as chief of police. It is not known yet who the trustees will appoint in his stead, but they will have to hustle to find one as good as Jim.

—The "Bill of Rights" as finally adopted by the new constitution tinkers, is a remarkable document. It starts out by announcing the fact that they have ordained and established the constitution in order to secure to ourselves and to succeeding generations a continuance of the blessings of civil, political and religious liberty. It seems that they are of the opinion that the adoption of the constitution is all that is necessary to secure these blessings. They then proceed to recognize and establish the great and essential principles of liberty and free government, by declaring that all men are, by nature, free and equal. It is easy to determine in what the freedom of all men consists, but not so easy as to their equality. The charitable presumption is that in the use of the word men, it was not intended to deny that women are also by nature free and equal. They declare first that all men have the right of enjoying and defending their lives and liberties. It is well to have this declaration upon paper, as men, in the exercise of their natural rights, may overlook that of self defense and hence be the subjects of imposition, in cases where the weak are forced to encounter the strong. It is a comfort to know that we all have the right of seeking and pursuing our safety and happiness. All we have to do now is to seek and pursue with commendable zeal, and safety and happiness will be attained without the slightest inconvenience or trouble. They declare also, in the fourth place, that the people have the right of "freely communicating their thoughts and opinions." This is a magnificent concession upon the part of the convention to those who placed them in power, and they deserve well of their constituency for their liberality. True, the language is somewhat vague in not defining to whom the citizen is permitted to communicate his thoughts and opinions, whether to his immediate family or to the public generally. This is followed by the startling announcement that all men have the right of acquiring and protecting property. This provision will, no doubt, prove quite a stimulus to the business enterprises of the State, and open the eyes of those who have been in doubt as to their right to accumulate property and not have it taken from them by force without the right of resistance. The right of assembling together in a peaceable manner for their common good, is vouchsafed to the people in section 5, and they are also given to understand that they have the right to apply to their public servants, whom they place in power, for a redress of grievances or other proper purposes, by petition. This is kind and deserves a bumper to be drank standing and in silence. In section 1, all men are declared to be free; in section 7, "that absolute and arbitrary power over the lives, liberty and property of free men exists nowhere in a republic." The inference to be drawn from section 8 is, that there may be those in a republic who are not "free men," notwithstanding the declaration that all men are "free" in section 1. It is somewhat remarkable that the convention, in its enumeration of the natural rights of men, should have neglected to mention those of locomotion, location, eating, drinking, breathing and divers other important rights, which their constituents may hesitate to exercise in the absence of constitutional authority.

DEADWOOD, CASEY COUNTY.

—Mrs. Sally A. Snow took the train here Monday to visit her aunt, Mrs. Sally Carrigan, at Danville.

—Little Eddie Bolin, while cracking hickory nuts, Monday, raised the hatchet he was using a little too high and cut an ugly gash above his eye.

—Andrew Mainard and Miss Lorena Bolin, aged 14 years, will be married at the residence of Mr. Gep. P. Bolin tomorrow, Thursday, at 4 o'clock.

—The schools of this county are beginning to close out ere long every little dirty-nosed urchin will be turned loose to prey upon the rest of humanity for the next six months. Can't the con. provide for 12 month schools?

—Mr. Enoch Wesley, principal proprietor, preceptor and professor of the Yosemite school, will close out that institution Friday week. By the way, Enoch, could you not tell us how far a teacher should be influenced in the school-room by shot-gun policy?

—William Miller, at Middleburg, is something of a prophet. He predicted before the late election that the Force bill and McKinley bill would reduce the republican vote 30 per cent, and the returns show how near his predictions came to being verified.

—Hon. John Henry Wilson told the people in his speech at Liberty that as the McKinley bill had raised the price of tin cups and tin plates, they could economize by hewing out wooden ones. The idea as coming from a candidate for Congress seems so ridiculous that it has been suggested that he hereafter be called Wooden Plate Wilson, and any person heard to call him by any other name should be made to "set 'em up" to the crowd.

Watching the Clock.

As the Christian Union says, there is a deal of common sense in this story lately told of Edison, whether he said it or not. A gentleman went to the great electrician with his young son, who was about to begin work as office boy in a well known business house. The father asked Edison for a motto which the boy might take to heart in his struggle for promotion and success. After a moment's pause, Edison said, laconically, "Never look at the clock!" Edison meant, we take it, that the man who is constantly afraid he is going to work over time or over hours, doesn't stand a chance of competing with the man who clears up his desk, no matter how long it takes. The carpenter who drops his hammer, uplifted above his head, when the whistle blows, is likely to remain a second-class workman all his life. The carpenter who stays 15 minutes to finish a "job" is working toward a shop of his own.

A show of merit is certainly deserving of success, and we take pleasure in proclaiming to our readers that a better show never sat behind the footlights of our cosy theatre, than Vreeland's Operatic Minstrels. The town turned out en masse, and tested the capacity of the house. The first part was modern in every respect, and the taste and talent displayed in the selection of costumes, stage settings and talent, certainly give credit to the well-known proprietor and manager Mr. C. W. Vreeland, and stage manager Mr. Larry McAvoy. The olio consisted of many novel acts, among which is a magnificently costumed Base Ball Tableau Clog, Quartette singing, Silence and Fun, Plantation Songs and Dances, etc. The performance terminated with a very laughable afterpiece, and sent everybody home in the best of spirits.—Syracuse Courier, Feb. 27, '90. At Walton's Opera House, Friday night, Nov. 28.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught a child, which she had found lying on the ground, and was so badly injured that she was unable to move. She was taken to the hospital, and after being treated for several days, she was found to be suffering from a severe case of cholera. She was then taken to the hospital, and after being treated for several days, she was found to be suffering from a severe case of cholera. She was then taken to the hospital, and after being treated for several days, she was found to be suffering from a severe case of cholera.

Just 24 years ago the first horse butcher in Paris opened his shop. Since then there have been started nearly 140 horse flesh shops in the department of the Seine, and at the present time about 20,000 horses are killed every year in Paris for human food. The price of the meat is less than half that of ordinary butcher's meat. Berlin is following the example of Paris.

She was then taken to the hospital, and after being treated for several days, she was found to be suffering from a severe case of cholera. She was then taken to the hospital, and after being treated for several days, she was found to be suffering from a severe case of cholera.

Marvelous Endurance.

The vast amount of labor performed by the heart in keeping all parts of the body supplied with blood is not generally known. It beats 100,000 times and forces the blood at the rate of 66 miles a day, which is 3,000,000,000 times and 3,150,000 miles in a life time. No wonder there are so many heart failures. The first symptoms are shortness of breath, when, upon exerting pain in the side or stomach, fluttering, chills in the throat, nervousness, then follow cold, hungry or smothery spells, swollen ankles, etc. Dr. FARRINGTON'S NEW HEART CURE is the only remedy. Sold by A. R. Penny.

An absent-minded man of Lexington went to a good deal of trouble the other day to borrow a dog and load up a lot of shells to go on a shooting expedition and when he got out of town about 10 miles, he discovered that he had forgotten his gun.—Paris News.
